

Thirty Two Caliber
Traditions deer hunter

Muzzleloader kit

In the white

blued the barrel

- ❖ Useing birchwood caseys
- ❖ cold blue good enough for a
- ❖ utility small game getter

Sanding the stock

- ❖ Be patient and and spend
- ❖ time on this task for it will
- ❖ show once you apply your
- ❖ finish.

Ramrod Thimble

- ❖ Designed for a round
- ❖ barrel and larger ramrod
- ❖ had to file to obtain flat
- ❖ mounting surface.

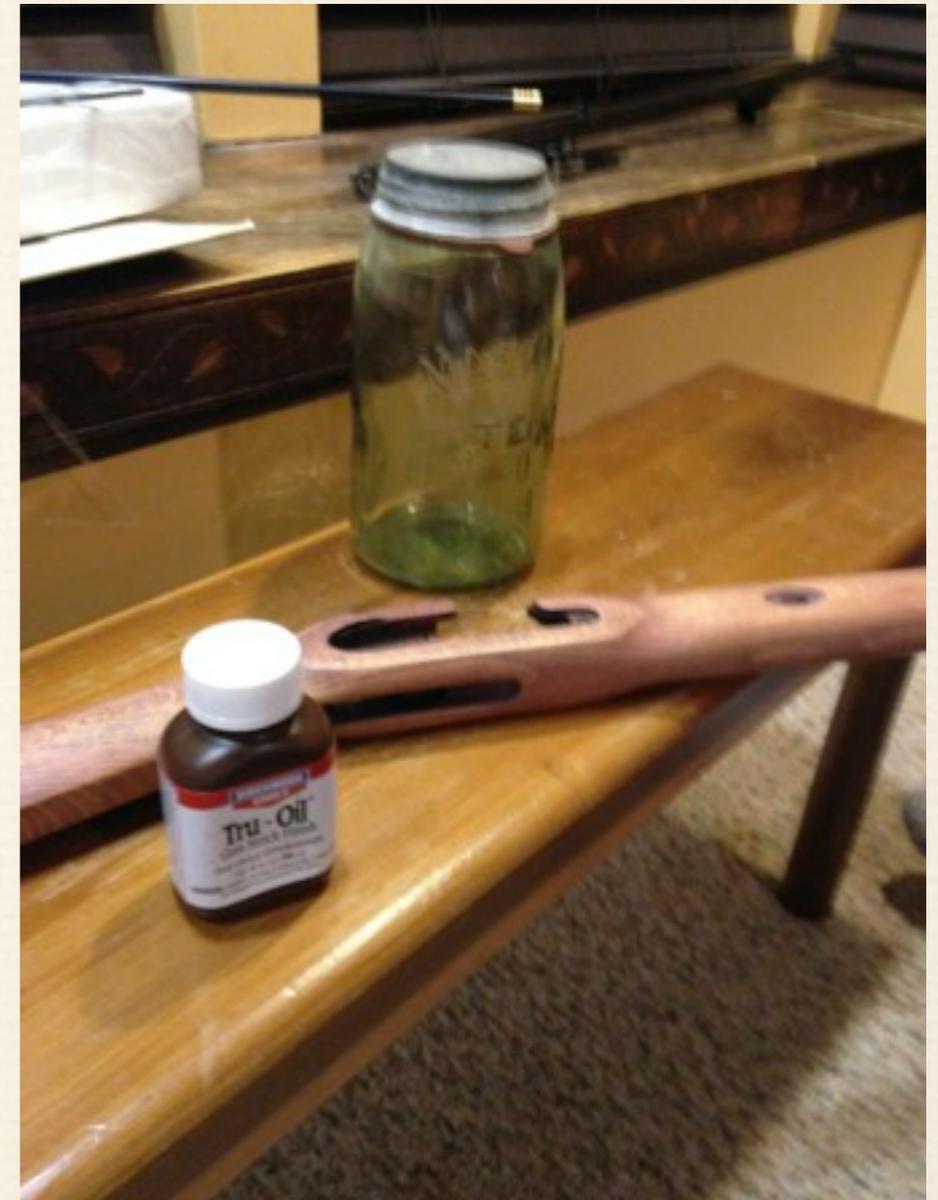

Ramrod Thimble

- ❖ Had to shorten mounting
- ❖ screws for thimble used
- ❖ grinder fits well now part of
- ❖ the fun and challenge.

Staining the stock

- ❖ I used a light wild cherry
- ❖ stain left over from one of
- ❖ my wife's projects. A bit light
- ❖ but Its growing on me.

Tru Oil Finish

Install Furniture and lock

Test Fire Percussion caps

- ❖ I wish I had this gun
- ❖ when this permit was
- ❖ current. I used single
- ❖ 12 gauge back then.

Personal touch

- ❖ My Uncle Frank Birdsong
- ❖ Kitchens gave me this coin
- ❖ before he passed. I keep it
- ❖ to remember him for he
- ❖ was like my father in my
- ❖ youth.

Hand made sling

- ❖ My son donated this canvas
- ❖ belt. I hand sewed button
- ❖ holes and buttons then sewed
- ❖ the ends to keep them from
- ❖ fraying. Thanks Andrew.

Range Work

- ❖ Once I work up the proper
- ❖ load and patch it will fill
- ❖ many game bags. first few all
- ❖ over the place then started
- ❖ grouping quite well at 25
- ❖ Yards.

32 Cal deer hunter

- ❖ This build was fun very friendly to beginners
- ❖ I would recommend this kit to all willing to put
- ❖ in the time and effort the reward is worth it
- ❖ it is very hard to find 32 caliber smoke poles.
- ❖ The Soft recoil would suit younger shooters.
